The Places We've Been

The places we've been
I remember quite well.
The places we'll go,
I really can't tell.

We've made it this far
After working twelve long years,
Now is the time
When we conquer our fears.

I've never been alone
I've had my friends by my side,
And when I leave Duxbury
I'll leave here with pride,

Because I know I've worked hard
To reach this point that's here at last,
And I'll smile when I think
I've mastered my past.

— Molly Connelly, '95

Thenx M/D/C I finally did it. '93-'94 was the best year. All the fun we had in A.V. with M.W.2/N.W. '93 winter was the best for snow plowing. Ashley enjoys J.R. Dnk Dnt cle was the best. M.W. ft too much. Sometimes N.W or M.W. THinks I have en A.P. Life is not ez. Thenx for all the help from Mrs. H/Mrs. P/Mrs. R. Mr. V . . . I will be around. Russ, get a new lift erid some better tools. "HONK-HONK" I hope I go to N.T.I.D. in the future. L K.W. always end forever.

Well, it's been a cool 12 years. I'm going to miss all you guys when we go our separate ways in September. Oh well, I guess we'll always have memories (and telephones and letters and stuff, so keep in touch). I'll just end with a quickly contrived quote: "In the deserted harbour there is yet water that laps against the quays. In the dark and silent forest there is a leaf that falls . . . Nothing is ever silent, except for fools." So go make noise.

I saw the man today on the road inbound
Who said he'd make me a man; a fan.
Teach me the difference between right and wrong,
Play me a tune and sing me a song.

I said to that man, put your gun away;
You ain't signing me up for some show.
I'd seen your song, dance and roll before!
Vanity's your name, and I'm not that poor.
So on I drove, to the blue horizon afar.
Over the bright plains, and through a forest.
I climbed red mounts with minutes to spare,
did only then I realize — just how I had fared.

YOU'LL GO

Where's the ball? I can't find the darn ball!

There's an excitement in the air
When a goal is scored,
Or a ball's called fair.

There's a feeling of joy that teammates get Watching a puck slide into a
net,
Or seeing a teammate win
her first set.

Our teams make us proud
For better or worse.
They're our reason to cheer
Though our voices turn hoarse.

And though we'll stand by their side
Through thick and through thin,
It's nice to have fun
But it's better to win.

YOU'LL GO

Do you like taking pictures?
Like to travel or to sing?
Enjoy helping others?
Or is music your thing?

There are clubs for all interests,
Ways to find your own niche
Thanks to dedication and work
They run without hitch.

Whether you decide to paint,
tutor,
Or set the yearbook to rhyme
You'll find truth in the saying
"So much to do, yet so little time"

AFS

AFS, or American Field Service, is involved with both foreign and domestic exchange programs. The AFS members endeavor to make Duxbury's foreign exchange students feel at home. This year, Duxbury had the pleasure of hosting four exchange students: Marcos Guerreiros from Brazil, Marisa Walchli from Switzerland, Nigel Miller from Australia, and Kristian Oma from Norway. The AFS members also participated in a short term exchange in Maryland this year.

MUSIC

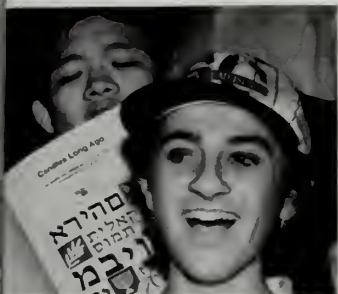

The Duxbury High School music department has gradually become larger, more talented, and more involved. The department consists of marching band, concert band, orchestra, full orchestra, Chamber, Wind Ensemble, Choir, Madrigals, Jazz Band and the brass ensemble. This year students will head down to New York for a music festival, in hopes that they receive many awards.

STUDENT LIFE

OH

Places

YOU'LL GO

Strike a pose, Sam!

Memories

Pictures in History's Yearbook
Slowly forgotten with age.
It doesn't seem time to move
on yet
Or to turn the page.

What seemed so important then
Is now so very small.
What seemed to belong to us
Was never ours at all.

Instead it was claimed
By Father Time himself,
Packed up and stored away
Upon Life's endless shelf.

Memories of laughter
And smiles fading away.
Magic locked inside my heart,
And there it will forever stay.

YOU KNOW YOU'RE A SENIOR WHEN ...

You laugh at people who have to go on buses.
 You have to take underclassmen to the prom.
 Waiting for acceptance letters makes you do this.
 This is where you are first period.
 You look at school food like this.
 Your daily college junk mail fills a box this big.
 You do three hours of homework in five minutes.
 You don't know enough to leave your work at home.

You realize high school football is your last chance to play.
 It's easy to pick out the underclassman.
 The thought of school turns you into Forrest Gump.
 Your jokes just aren't funny anymore.
 You can look like a fool and still rule the school.
 You've mastered the art of falling asleep in class (with your hand still up).
 You can come to a Halloween party and not dress up.
 You look like this when you exit A.P. English class.
 The thought of May makes you want to do this.

We all that and then some!!

Aww!! Doesn't he look cute in his tighty whities?!
